Hi, my name is Sean Gregory and I am a brand new flight instructor here at Long Beach Flying Club. I am twenty years old and I am from Newport Beach, California. I started flying at the age of sixteen at Fullerton Municipal Airport. I did my first solo flight before I could legally drive a car. I am very out going and get along with everyone. Flying has always been a passion of mine and now I get to share that passion with others by teaching and helping others fulfill their dream of flying. Being new and having gone through these phases of flight training at such a young age helps me cater to the student and understand exactly what they need as an individual to make it through their flight training. I am extremely flexible and will work my schedule around yours to help you get the most out of your training. I am available seven days a week as early in the morning or as late at night as you need. This flexibility gives me the time to give each student the attention they need and deserve to make their training a positive, memorable and most importantly, a fun learning experience. I am extremely dedicated and will do whatever I can to make your dreams a reality. See you in the air.
